SECRETARY DAVIS MAKES INTERESTING REPORT ON DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND RECOMMENDS MUCH NEEDED LEGISLATION

Would Broaden Powers of Board of Conciliation
to Avoid Strikes, Add to Employment Service,
Give Aliens Exam before Embarking for U. S.

URGES FEDERAL JUVENILE COURTS

A series of recommendations comprising a labor program accompanied the annual report of Secretary of Labor Davis, made public today. The report after reviewing the labor history of the year, and pointing out the industrial lessons of the coal and rail road strikes makes the following recommendations:

The extension and expansion of the Conciliation Service of the Department of Labor to provide it with facilities which will permit it to deal with nation-wide industrial disturbances.

The strengthening of the United States Employment Service to enable it to meet the problem of unemployment.

Provision for the examination abroad of all aliens seeking admission to the United States with rigid physical, mental, moral and blood tests.

The enrollment by the federal authorities of all aliens within the borders of the United States and provision for the education in Americanism of such as are eligible for naturalization.

A federal constitutional amendment to prohibit the employment of children.

A federal juvenile court system. Discussing the industrial conflicts of the year and means for preventing similar clashes in the future the Secretary's report said:

"We must find a way to avert these futile, fatal appeals to force in industry, with their vast losses to the worker, the employer, and to the public, which is today so vitally dependent upon industry in its daily life. We must and will find a way to settle these disputes by the force of reason and justice before the appeal to force is made. Instead of conferences after months of industrial battle, I would have council before the strike is called. There is a close community of interest between the employer and the worker in every industry. Unless obscured by passion and prejudice in the heat of dispute, that community of interest will operate to adjust any differences that may arise between the two, to their common benefit. This community of interest, to my mind, is the secret of ending these industrial conflicts. There seems to be an unalterable opposition on the part of both employer and worker to the bringing into any dispute of a third party vested with all coercive powers sufficient to force a settlement. Our people have no indorsed any general policy of compulsion in dealing with these disputes. The principles of enforced arbitration, in any guise, is generally rejected by both parties to these controversies. It has been the experience of the Department of Labor that disinterested, intelligent, practical conciliation is capable of ending many of these disputes. In less than 10 years that the department has been in existence the Conciliation Service, hampered by limitations in personnel and equipment, has accomplished much in these disputes. It has handled thousands of them, involving millions of workers. It has had no arbitrary power, no coercive authority. Its commissioners have been peace-makers in industry, seeking to ascertain and appreciate the differing points of view of the two parties to a controversy and by earnest and painstaking appeals to the innate fairness and common interests of both sides to bring them to a common ground where an agreement can be reached. Of all the cases handled by this service more than 90 per cent of the disputes have been adjusted through their efforts or with their cooperation. Furthermore, where 70 per cent of these disputes in which the service acted when it was organized reached the stage of a strike or

Protection Of Christian Minorities Demanded By Curzon For Allies

Lausanne, Dec. 13.—Marquis Curzon, on behalf of the Allies today notified the Turks that the Near Eastern Conference here will be abandoned unless the Kemalists recede from their opposition to the Allied demand for the protection of Christian minorities in Turkish territories.

Marquis Curzon said the Turk would be wholly to blame if the conference broke up on the minority question.

The Turks must also decide quickly, the English Foreign Secretary said, whether they would join the League of Nations in the Near Eastern question or refuse. Curzon stated that he did so with the full agreement of the other invited powers, France and Italy.

A ambassador Childs had previously declared on behalf of America that the Christians in the Near East must be protected, as one of the "vital interests of the United States."

New York City, N. Y., Dec. 13.—George Clemenceau left for home today. When asked for a last message he said, "Not now, I shall give you my last word when I am dead. My ghost will come back."

THREE LIVES LOST IN BUFFALO FIRES DURING THE NIGHT

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 13.—Three persons were burned to death in fires which drove many victims into the cold here last night. The Cold Spring barn near Buffalo caught from defective wiring and one man was burned to death. Two unidentified persons were burned to death in two fires which consumed seven residences.

COLD WAVE DOES NOT HIT THE EAST VERY SEVERELY

Washington, D. C. Dec. 13.—The coldest weather of the winter is drifting to the eastern and central states. Fuel supplies were found to be adequate in most localities although New York found that it had to make use of odd sized. Temperatures reached zero in only isolated spots and most reported were in the region of ten above.

Three Children Die In Tenement House Fire In New York City

New York N. Y. Dec 13.—Three children are dead today as a result of a tenement house fire. The victims are Joseph aged 17, Rose aged 8 and Anna, aged 7 months, all children of Joseph McGowan. Their mother left them on a bed when she went to a grocery near there Joseph tried to carry the baby out but they all fell into the flames.

COURT NOTES

Howard Dixon of Bald Hill, was tried before Judge Bell this morning on a charge of rape preformed by Laura Kree an 18 year old girl from Sanbury who was employed at the Dixon home. Dixon was prosecuted by Mitchell Chase Esq., while Wallace Smith, Esq., defended him.

GOVERNORS HAVE VARIED TOPICS TO ENLIVEN MEETING

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Dec. 13.—Governors from many states were gathered here today for conference on the vital domestic issues that the legislatures of many commonwealths are compelled to meet.

Prohibition enforcement, movie censorship, activities of the Ku Klux Klan, business and agricultural conditions were scheduled for earnest discussion in a three day meeting that will open tomorrow.

President Harding brought the prohibition enforcement condition to the Governors' attention in his annual message to Congress and in a general message he announced he would call the Governors in conference in an effort to co-ordinate state and federal enforcement measures. Some of the State Executives who will attend the conference here have decided ideas on the subject and it is likely suggestions evolved here will be presented at Mr. Harding's conference which it to meet some time in January.

Women's Club Holds A Very Interesting Pre-Xmas Meeting

The December meeting of the Clearfield Womens Club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Boulton, Tuesday evening, December 12.

The President Mrs. Chas. T. Kurtz presided. The business meeting, including the program was very interesting. Mrs. E. E. Orcutt, chairman of the Civic Committee, reported progress made in the effort to have the streets of Clearfield properly marked. The club hopes by the Spring "clean up week" to have the signs ready to place.

The club unanimously voted to buy a Health bond.

An appeal is to be made for used toys to be distributed at Christmas time to the tots whose Christmas otherwise would prove a mighty disappointment. Plans for the annual banquet were also discussed.

At the end of the business program there was a roll call of members, the response being Christmas sentiments. Following this a very

HUNTERS TRAPPED ON HIGH TRESTLE; ONE IS KILLED

Dr. Bois, Pa., Dec. 13.—Three men, presumably returning from a hunting trip, were trapped on the high trestle just east of Summerville yesterday afternoon about 2 45 o'clock, one of them being instantly killed, another badly injured, while a third escaped a horrible death by dropping through the trestling to a stone abutment.

The dead Louis Valentine, Summerville, instantly killed; body hurled several yards by engine.

The injured Steve Raclozy, Washaw, severely injured when he leaped into the creek to avoid being hit by the engine. Struck on rocks. Now in Brookville hospital, condition serious.

A third man, Reynaldo Juliz, dropped through the bridge to a stone abutment, where he escaped death. His escape is considered remarkable, as he had but a small space on which to alight. Had he missed the abutment he would have landed in the creek with Raclozy.

It is believed that the three men had been out hunting as they were accompanied by two dogs. They were traveling towards the west and a strong wind was blowing from that direction. It is believed that this wind prevented them from hearing the warnings sounded by the engineer and when the driver saw them he had no chance to bring his train to a stop.

The train was going at a good speed when it struck the bridge and the body of Valentine was thrown a considerable distance. Raclozy managed to clear the bridge just in time to avoid being struck, while Juliz dropped through to the abutment as the engine reached him.

The passenger train is the one leaving DuBois at 12 50. The crew stopped and gathered up the body of the dead man, rescued the injured man from the creek, where he was in danger of suffocation and Juliz himself was able to get back to the trestle. All three were taken to Summerville from which place the injured man was sent to the Brookville hospital.

Mrs. Mayre Hartsfeld returned from a visit at her sisters in Pittsburgh.

HOLDS UP WOMAN IN BEDROOM AFTER FORCING ENTRANCE

Harry Dean, a peg-legged colored man who came to Clearfield about two months ago from Elmira, N. Y., and was employed at the tannery, was placed in jail yesterday after being arrested by Constable T. B. Reilly of the Second Ward on a warrant issued by Judge Joseph F. John following information made by Rudolph Tasso, of the Fourth Ward, which charged breaking and entering and forcing Mrs. Tasso to give him $10.

The information charges that on Monday night last between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock Dean broke into the Tasso home and making his way upstairs to the bed room in which Mrs. Tasso was sleeping, demanded $10. The frightened woman obeyed the request of Dean and handed him a ten dollar bill. Dean then blew out the light, locked the door and then left the room and the house. When he came home and learned of the occurrence Tasso went to the office of Squire John and made the information against Dean, which resulted in his arrest.

Constable Reilly was given the warrant and going down to the shanty in which Dean lived found him asleep in his bed and placed him under arrest.

Dean told the officer he was drunk when he forced his way into the Tasso home. He claimed that he had given Tasso $7.00 on Monday evening to get him a pint of molasses but that Tasso failed to show up with either molasses or money and that he searched the house in search of his money expecting to find Tasso, but when he entered the room and found Mrs. Tasso and demanded the money.

Dean was sent to jail in default of bail.

DIES AT HOSPITAL FROM SERIOUS BURNS

Mrs. Margaret Waldron, who with her husband, Frank Waldron, were seriously burned when their home at Houtzdale was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning, Dec. 13th, died at the Cottage State hospital at Phillipsburg on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lancy Smith celebrated their birthdays yesterday. Both were born on the same date.

'13' HAS NO TERRORS FOR JUNIOR HIGH'S HIGH FINANCIERS

This morning was the 13th banking day for the school year by Junior High School. It was a gentle contest between the boys and the girls who held the record for a time, but it finally shifted to the Mitchell group of boys who took the first place with $65.99, and this alone topped the total of last year, $61.81. Thirteen seems to have been today a charm number for this is the 13th day. The total amount for the day was $135.75, a gain of $74.44. The place of 13 and its multiple in all the figures. The total for 13 banking days comes to $1,342.11, which shows a total advance of $402.80. Last year the girls kept the record throughout the year but this year the boys have given far in excess of the girls, and one group of boys has resolved to eat lemon for breakfast for 13 days before they will allow the girls or any group of boys to surpass their giving. That vow will meet its "bang" sometime, for there is a bunch that has it in for the Mitchell magnificents.

The occasion was enlivened this morning by the presence of the Rev. T. S. Wilcox, D. D. of Williamsport Seminary, who left with them three great G's, which he gave out in "Grow, Grow, and Go." Then Rev. H. L. Jacobs, known to most of the boys and girls of Clearfield as "Mac Decker," was cheered when he read the report and commented on the various items of the school's banking record. Prof. C. D. Ross, who was in his characteristic smile, declared that he was carried off his feet—figuratively speaking. The first day of School in 1923 falls on banking day, and the school has set itself to make a record then. You should have heard the entire school cheer and some of them with a "bang."

31 POUND CAT IS TRAPPED AT STONE CAMP ON LICK RUN

The Panther Rocks or Stone Camp Hunting Club broke camp Sunday last, bringing to town two bucks and a wildcat which weighed 31½ pounds and measured 56 inches from tip to tip.

The huge cat was caught in a steel trap set in the draft below the camp at the head of Lick Run. Lusher Krebs and Jim Cochran found the cat in the trap and they had some battle before they succeeded in killing it. The trappers left their rifles in the camp when they went to visit the trap, nearly a mile away, and when they found the old fellow fast by a foreleg they decided to club him to death rather than journey back to camp for a gun with which to shoot it.

The cat naturally objected to being killed and stood his belabors off for fully fifteen minutes before a well-directed blow from Krebs' club put him temporarily down for the count.

With the cat off his feet the rest was easy and he soon lacked that which makes the wild cat wild.

FORMER MADERA MAN DIES

John Jordan, aged about 77 years, a former resident of Madera, died last evening at the County Home of complications incident to old age.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13.—Frank admission that the whole power of the American Federation of Labor is behind the attempt to impeach Attorney General Daugherty, was made by Samuel Compers. He said he was interested in three phases of the charges but was not permitted to say what they were.

EDWARDS IS FOUND GUILTY BY JURY IN BOOTLEGGING CASE

Trial of Jos. Ianaro and His Wife On Same Charge Will Go to Jury This Evening.

EVIDENCE STRONG

The jury in the case of Constable A. C. "Tunk" Edwards the First Ward of Clearfield, was given the case at 5:30 p. m. evening at the conclusion of Judge Bell's charge and returned a verdict of guilty within twenty-five minutes.

The concluding chapters of the defense adduced at the trial are given here, last evening's story of name closing with the calling of Mitchell Graham to the stand in effort to disprove the state police who secured the evidence against Edwards.

Mr. Arnold then cross-examined Graham as to the exact date when he was unable to determine the exact date, objection was made. His further testimony and cross-examination at this point the defense with the witness and called his daughter Minnie Graham to the stand.

An offer at this bar was asked and when made was objected to. District Attorney but he was overruled by the Court. An effort then made by Attorney Chase to the witness determine the exact date of the two state police officers in Phillipsburg, Mr. Graham having testified to Phillipsburg Nov. 16th. He testified to having seen Mr. Ianaro at her home between 8:30 and 9:30 p. m. Nov. 16th. They were there an hour. When asked if they were drinking objection was made to the question and sustained by the Court. When asked if the men were drunk or sober when they came there she said she could not say, she did not think of it. There was present at the time her father, mother, sister, the two police officers, Miss Fryer and Miss Lantich.

Mitchell Graham was then recalled and said Mr. Ianaro and Trout came to his house Nov. 14 between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock. He said the men were either drunk or crazy when they arrived.

Harvey Sherrin was then called and sworn, and on offer it was made, which was objected to by the District Attorney and peremptorily sustained by the Court.

Alma Lantich was called and asked concerning her visit to the Graham home with Mr. Ianaro and Trout. She asked whether or not Mr. Graham had ordered them from the house. Objection was made and sustained by the Court, who declared that the defense disregard the question. An offer at this bar was made and objection made and sustained.

Roxie Fryer was called but objection was made by the District Attorney to her testifying and she was withdrawn.

The defense then asked for five minutes recess for consultation and it was granted.

At the end of the recess period the defense announced they had closed their case and the Court then declared the evidence closed and directed that the attorneys go to the jury with their arguments.

The case of Con. vs. Joseph Ianaro and Mrs. Joseph Ianaro, charged with information made by County Detective Monie Snyder with violation of the Woner Act, was placed on trial in criminal court at 11 o'clock this morning. This is the second case wherein the evidence was secured by the two state policemen called into the county by District Attorney Arnold last October to investigate the many complaints received regarding the illicit liquor traffic in Clearfield. District Attorney Arnold is conducting the prosecution while A. Woodward and A. R. Chase, Esq., represent the defendants.

The District Attorney in opening his case to the jury, said he expected to be able to prove illicit sales by both Mr. and Mrs. Ianaro on several occasions.

The first witness called was the lockout, today less than 80 per cent of them become actual suspensions of work before they are adjusted. "It seems to me that before enacting any radical legislation or changing the administrative scheme for dealing with these strikes, we might well consider the perfecting and extension of the machinery which has proved so effective in the past. I have no doubt that by improving and increasing the facilities of the Conciliation service we can materially increase its effectiveness in dealing with the 10 per cent of industrial disputes in which it apparently fails. In many of these cases of apparent failure, however, the efforts of a conciliation commissioner become the ultimate basis of settlement.

As to unemployment the report said:

"Here we have two problems to meet—to prevent a recurrence of the employment depression which threw between five and six million men into idleness and to reduce the number of our workmen who are daily without means of livelihood.

"We have a powerful agency in meeting both of these problems in the United States. Employment Service, which, fully organized and equipped, would have its finger at all times upon the pulse of the labor supply and demand of the country. The past year this service, with its co-operating agencies, proved its effectiveness. It listed between 2-500,000 workers seeking employment, and placed nearly 1,500,000 of them in jobs without expense to the worker or employer. Its usefulness and the need for its development are plain.

"The causes of idleness among our workmen call for instant remedy. Industrial strife and unemployment offer opportunities to the enemy of government too favorable for us to overlook them. Wherever worker and employer clash and wherever men are in enforced idleness, there is the opportunity for the unscrupulous employer with his hired guard, his mercenary plug-ugly. There, too, the ultra-radical finds conditions ripe for his efforts. Both threaten the subversion of all government, as they preach contempt for law and order, and by stirring the passions and hate of the masses, they frustrate the gospel of violence and bloodshed. These things are a menace to our whole national existence. They threaten the fundamentals of our Government. No duty is more pressing upon us today than that of safeguarding ourselves from these dangers."

The report explained the Secretary's immigration and naturalization proposals briefly as follows:

"It seems clear to me that the place to determine whether an alien is fit for America—whether he is mentally, physically, morally and by blood capable of exercising the rights and assuming the duties of citizenship in America—is not after he has made a long and expensive voyage across the ocean, but before he begins it. By examining aliens abroad to determine whether they are legally admissible to the United States we would avoid that heart-rending appeal to the emotions which now every day confronts the immigration officials at ports of entry. We could avoid the separation of families, which excites the profoundest compassion. We could know that we are deciding each case according to the real facts.

"We owe to the America of today and to the America of tomorrow the duty of educating in Americanism the 7,000,000 naturalizable aliens who are today in America outside the pale of citizenship. They must be made acquainted with America and America must learn to know them. They must be made worthy of the high privilege of citizenship in the United States. To do this we must know who they are and what they are, and we must teach them the principles upon which our Republic is founded, the principles which every American must hold to if the Nation is to endure. For this purpose I propose to enroll the stranger within our gates, to learn to know him, to aid him to become a real American if he is worthy, and to send him whence he came if he prove unworthy."

In addition to the enrollment of all aliens, the Secretary recommended for the consideration of Congress the determination of a definite policy with regard to the permanent residence in America of aliens of those races who under the law are barred from naturalization.

Land Built by Rivers.
The geologists say that the Gulf of Mexico once extended northward to the mouth of the Ohio, and that all the land between that point and New Orleans has been built up by the earth washings brought down the river. Even now, the stream carries on the average something like 400,000,000 tons every year. From the Missouri alone comes 120 tons every second, or more than 10,000,000 cubic yards every day.

Wasted Time.

We don't miss the little here and the little there. Yet in a year the amount of time wasted is enormous. Learning that he was always called to dinner several minutes before the dinner was really ready to eat a certain man started and wrote a book in the spare minutes between the call and the actual dinner time. It only shows how we waste time. If you want to be among earth's benefactors you will begin now to conserve your time and use it to profit.—Exchange.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Attendance at any one session of Clearfield county criminal court will satisfy the most fastidious that there is poverty, distress and depravity enough right here in this county to furnish opportunity for effort on the part of every upright organization in the county. The Life case was a shining example for missionary work among Clearfield county "heathens."

You lovers of meat who delight in tickling the palate with an extra cut of roast beef or a large, juicy steak, but hesitate because of the prevalent belief that meat-eating is injurious to the health, perish your fears and go to it, says Charles J. Brand, consulting specialist in marketing of the Department of Agriculture.

"Many persons," Brand declares, "still hold to the belief, which was largely the outgrowth of unfair and misguided propaganda, that meat is not healthful. Medical science has proved over and over that a large number of ill once charged against meat-eating are due to infection of teeth, tonsils and other organs."

Meat is wholesome, Brand asserts, and for health and vigor we should eat well-balanced meals, including a variety of kinds and cuts of meat.

The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court establishes once for all that each state has concurrent power with the federal government in the enforcement of the prohibition law and that a violation of same may be punished through both federal and state action. The Supreme Court declared the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted for the purpose of establishing prohibition as a national policy, reaching every section of the country and affecting local, interstate and foreign commerce. The court added:

"We have here two sovereignties deriving power from different sources capable of dealing with the same subject matter within the same territory. Each may, without interference with the other, enact laws to secure prohibition, with the limitation that no legislation can give validity to acts prohibited by the amendment. Each government in determining what shall be an offense against its peace and dignity is exercising its own sovereignty—not that of the other."

Murder is increasing in the United States, the birth rate is falling and the natural death rate is also increasing. In 1921, 1,910 murders were committed in 28 American cities. The average is now 9.3 per 100,000. But those that collect the somewhat appalling figures are mistaken in their conclusion that prohibition is a failure because murders have not decreased.

In speaking of this proposition a leading New York newspaper says:—Murders due to drunkenness have diminished, undoubtedly, for there is less drunkenness. But there is a new crop of murders, due to the bootlegging industry, which involves hundreds of millions a year, and causes many murders among the bootleggers themselves. The war also has helped. When you teach and urge thousands of young men to kill strangers, a few of them inevitably will kill when they come back home.

In Pennsylvania in 1906, according to figures furnished by the state department of health, the death rate from tuberculosis was 150.9 per 100,000 persons. In 1921, according to the same authority, the death rate from this dread disease had fallen to 91.6 per 100,000.

Value of Shadows.

Reflections and shadows form an important aid to decoration. The shadow of a spray of roses or a group of tall grasses against a light wall or table is very beautiful. So is the reflection of a well-planned set of furniture or pottery in a mirror. A gray silhouette of a vine is sometimes painted on the window shade of a sun room to give the effect of a shadow.

Wonderful Plum Pudding.

To celebrate the jubilee of George III. the landlord of a tavern in London made a plum pudding weighing 400 pounds and put it up as a prize to be eaten for by teams of six men each.

Christmas Candles Glow

HOME corners are the shrines in which Christmas candles are burned—the dearest spots in the world to you—to every one! But they deserve their Christmas Gifts, too. What are you going to give them? Perhaps the mellow home lights search for vagabond books that need book-cases to mother them. Perhaps somebody's pet ash tray needs a permanent place to rest. What are you going to give home corners this Christmas?

WOULDN'T MOTHER ENJOY THESE?

Not only Mother but your wife, Mr. Man, would think kindly of you every time it became necessary to use any of these: An Eden Washer to help on washday, a Hoover Sweeper or a Eureka Sweeper for the sweeping days. You won't have to pay for any of these all at once, we can arrange that between us.

"Tunk" Edwards, a young man of fine appearance who has a legion of friends, who uses no profanity, is not vicious, and in every sense of the word "likeable," is today awaiting the Court's sentence after hearing the word "guilty" from a jury of twelve men who found he has been bootlegging.

He has violated the Woner Law and the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution, must, and will be punished. His punishment will no doubt be more severe because he held the office of constable, in which position he had taken an oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States.

While the law will demand full price, and there is no justification or excuse to be offered in extenuation for his misdoing, The Progress cannot help but believe that Tunk was guided largely by the knowledge, which he must have had, that he could get away with what others were doing, officers at that.

"Tunk" Edwards is not the only constable or peace officer in this county who has been engaged in this nefarious business. Many more of them have knowledge of it and do nothing about it.

For an officer of the law to permit law breaking should be punishable just the same as though he were doing the crime. If there is no law to hold them responsible for the ease with which liquor is obtainable, the citizens have recourse to the elections which will be held in the coming year.

LOVE!

We expect all the young folk to read this, because whenever the word love sticks out of the printed page they get all nervous and excited and they want to see what it's all about.

There was a man by the name of Rodger Dolan, and he loved a maid of 18. That was 40 years ago. He knew all the anguish of love unrequited. For she wanted to treat him "like a brother." So Rodger went away.

The other day he returned. He looked upon the face of the woman he had loved. She had matured in beauty, and retained the traces of her girlish charm.

But this is no fairy tale. It is real life. Rodger Dolan discovered that he no longer loved her. "She fitted my ideal as a suit of badly tailored clothes fits my body," Dolan said.

How much better it was that this couple never married. Rodger Dolan might have come to the same realization after the excited period of first love was gone, and then the divorce court would have been just around the corner.

Better think of the girl or the boy as a mature man or woman, young folk, before you take the fatal step. Will that picture fit your ideal as well as the present one, or will it seem like a suit of badly tailored clothes?

"Red" has been his annual custom for the past three or four years missed a big buck yesterday afternoon which had the temerity to approach within twenty feet of the mighty (poor) hunter. "Red" fired seven shots at the deer as it ambled slowly away and when taken to task for missing by his fellow hunters, "Red" said he was handicapped by the bracken interfering with his sight—the bracken is rather tall in that section.

EDWARDS IS FOUND GUILTY

Trout, of the state police, who some of the witnesses allege can drink moonshine like a fish, but who sure made suckers out of a lot of local "poor fish" who think themselves in the "wise guy" class. He said in company with Bob Horey he went to Ianaro's place on the evening of Nov. 6th for the purpose of purchasing some liquor. Horey went up the front stairs and down the back stairs into the kitchen and came out with a bottle of liquor. He saw Joe Ianaro after Horey came out of the store. He talked with Ianaro and Horey, who vouched for Trout to get liquor, but that Joe said he had no more than the bottle he had sold to Horey, which bottle Trout produced in evidence. The bottle was not quite full and Trout said Horey had taken a couple of drinks out of it. Trout said the next day—election day—in company with Private Murtha he returned to the Ianaro store, found Joe on the street and asked him for liquor. He told him to go into the house that Mary would take care of them. They entered the house by the front door and when they got down the back stairs into the kitchen Ianaro himself came in. He told his wife it was alright and Mrs. Ianaro then went into a pantry in the rear and got a bottle for them; taking a glass jug out of the pantry and filling the bottle from that. He had supplied the bottles—3 pints—the night before on his trip there with Horey. Joe had left before the bottles were filled. He got both pints, paying $4 for them.

Trout said he returned to the Ianaro home again on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock and purchased another quart from Mrs. Ianaro. She again got the liquor from a glass jug in the pantry. The jug did not hold quite a quart and she sent her little girl out to get some more. The little girl returned in a few minutes with a stone jug of liquor out of which the bottles were filled. These two pints were also presented in evidence. He also returned to Ianaro's on Nov. 14th at 7:45 p. m. Joe was in front of the house when he came. He spoke to Joe and then walked into the kitchen where Mrs. Ianaro gave him a pint which she filled out of a glass jug. Murtha paid over the money for it.

Trout was vigorously cross examined by Attorney Chase but stuck pretty closely to his story.

W. P. Murtha, the other state cop was then called and corroborated Trout as to the bottles that were turned over to him by Trout. He did not see Mrs. Ianaro fill the bottles and when they returned Nov. 14 Joe with sitting in front of the store and they spoke to him but did not stop. He saw none of the bottles being filled. On Nov. 9th Mrs. Ianaro said she would have Susie go to get some more liquor. She left the kitchen going upstairs and returning with the jug. Susie then came out of the pantry with the two bottles. He bought a pint for Mrs. Ianaro and turned it over to Trout, identifying the bottle in evidence.

On cross examination by Mr. Woodward Murtha said he had been a member of the state police for two years and two months. Asked if his efficiency and record wasn't governed by the convictions obtained, Murtha said they got not mark or credit for convictions. Said the Ianaro house was of frame construction and saw Joe Ianaro twice and was positive of his identity. Saw Mary Ianaro three times and she told him what her name was.

At this period a recess of a few minutes was taken while Pharmacist Ashcroft was arranging to make a test of the liquor in evidence in order that its alcoholic content might be determined.

The liquor law violations being prosecuted in this week's criminal court are all brought under the Woner Act, a Pennsylvania statute, which law was this commonwealth's effort to assist in enforcing national prohibition. The Woner Act makes it a misdemeanor to manufacture, sell, transport or possess liquor for beverage purposes containing more than one-half of one per cent. of alcohol. For these different violations or any one of them the Court may, at his discretion, impose a maximum sentence of $5,000 fine and three years in jail, while the minimum fine allowed is $100.

Perfecting Fireproof Paper.

Documents written on paper made from asbestos fiber, with inks prepared from the nitrates of iron and cobalt, have withstood a red heat for two hours without being damaged in any way. No damage resulted until the intensity of the heat was increased considerably and the document was exposed in it for ten hours. It is expected that further experimentation and study will result in the perfection of a paper and ink practically indestructible by fire.

Not So Sure.

The secretary of a social club was presented a cut-glass loving cup. His servant supposed the object the next morning. "Look at this thing," he said, "they know if it breaks one of their handles they'll have two left, and if they'll always have one left, will they; I'm not so sure about that."

Ballads and Laws.

Andrew Fletcher of Saltoun (1653-1716), the celebrated Scottish patriot and statesman, in a letter written to the marquis of Montrose, the earl of Rothes and others, said: "I knew a very wise man that believed that if a man were permitted to make all the ballads he need not care who should make the laws of a nation."

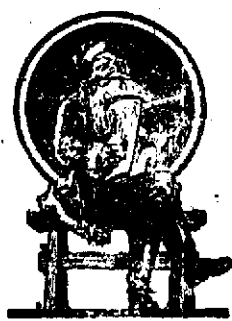

Uncovering the Illusion.

Suppose you should be startled in the dark night by something which looked like a specter? Would not he who should bring a lantern and show you that it was but a white cloth hanging to a bush give you far greater encouragement than he who merely exhorted you to keep up your heart, look the other way, whistle, and pass on?—Whitely.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Monday evening was a gala one for the C. H. S. football team and some of their supporters. The occasion was a banquet given in appreciation of the good work and showing the team made during the football season which closed on Thanksgiving Day, for the year 1922, by a number of business men of the town. Those who promoted the entertainment and carried it through to a successful issue were L. V. Vaughn, Joseph Fullerton, C. E. Doverspike and Lynn Dougherty. The banquet was held at the Park hotel, and consisted of a nine-course menu, carrying out the substantial and delicate provender for which this hostelry has become noted. Some forty persons were present and partook of the cigars and refreshments. One of the most surprising and pleasant features of the gathering was a large canopy, oval in pyramid shape, erected on one of the tables, made from gold and black cloth. Hidden within its folds was Little Eloise Rutter, a lass who has made a reputation as a songstress. At the proper moment she began to sing and at the parting of the cloth she appeared dressed in imitation of a football. Speeches were made by Messrs. Vaughn, Dougherty and Fullerton. Each member of the football team was called upon and each responded in a few well chosen words suitable to the occasion. It was a most enjoyable affair all the way along, and the boys will not soon forget the kindness and thoughtfulness of the men who entertained them in such a lavish manner in their appreciation and effort made to maintain a clean playing, winning team in Curwensville.

Mrs. C. E. Doverspike went to Altoona yesterday for a short visit with friends.

William Wolf is back from the Medix Run lumber woods and will remain with home folks until after Christmas.

The Progress writer was informed

yesterday that John Norris had purchased the corner store building at the river.

Harry Vaughn went to Altoona yesterday for the purpose of attending the funeral of a relative.

Mrs. George Bedner, whose home is over on the South Side, was removed to the Clearfield hospital yesterday where she will undergo a surgical operation.

Miss Marjorie Murray spent the week-end with her parents on Ridge avenue. Miss Murray recently returned from Lock Haven where she spent Thanksgiving week and renewed old acquaintances made during her school days in that city last summer.

Geo. C. Fleming is confined to his home by illness. "Piney" is playing in hard luck, only recently recovering from a serious attack of the flu while on a hunting expedition in Jefferson county.

Mrs. Benjamin Clee, of Glen Richy, passed away on last Friday, December 8th. Deceased was born in Leeds, England, October 16, 1865, and came to America when yet in her teens. The Clee family have been residents of Glen Richy for a number of years. Early in life she gave her heart to her Saviour and up until the hour she breathed her last, strove to live an honorable Christian life. She is survived by her husband and several children. Funeral services were held in the Glen Richy Presbyterian church on Monday, Rev. B. H. Conley, of this place, conducting the services, assisted by Rev. M. Seymore. Interment in Bloomington cemetery.

Mrs. Rose Bloom, George street, is reported as being confined to her home by illness.

The body of Mrs. William Allison arrived in Curwensville yesterday afternoon and was immediately conveyed from the train to the cemetery, where Rev. Collins conducted a short burial service. A number of Curwensville friends and relatives from Clearfield attended the services at Oak Hill cemetery. Undertaker C. D. Doverspike had charge of the body from the train to the cemetery.

Buried Alive in Tree.

As some workmen were felling timber in Scotland, they discovered in the center of one of the trees a cavity in which were the remains of a cat. The skeleton was entire, and some half of a sandy color yet remained on the skin. It is conjectured that the animal, having entered a hollow part of the tree, was unable to extricate itself, and the wood in process of years had grown around it.

Toyville Boyville Girlville

That's one and the same station with our wonderful array of toys and things that we have gathered for you down in our great toy section.

If you could see the things that will bring delight to the heart of little Mary, if you could see the things that will keep little Jack quiet and interested, of the games that are here in such a wonderful array, that they both can play—and you'll enjoy playing with them—you'd believe in a minute that this is the realest TOYVILLE in the city.

And if you could hear the shouts of delight as the kiddies discover some new thing after another, you'd know that this is the only place you would try to do any of your Christmas buying.

The boys stand and look longingly at the toys that move, the girls go into ecstasies of delight when they go into the great big room full of dolls, and the older kiddies stand and wonder at the games they could put in hours with during the long evenings after lessons are out of the way.

A trip down to the TOYVILLE will show you just what we mean—by all means take an hour any afternoon and enjoy the fun.

Heiress Found

A search extending over 30 years has resulted in the discovery of a heiress to a fortune of $500,000. Mrs. Allison-Long was found in Birmingham, Ala., by English authorities and informed that she is heiress to her grandfather's fortune of $500,000—nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

PRESIDENT BRUM OF URUGUAY WILL FIGHT DUEL TODAY

Montevideo, Dec. 13.—Doctor Balpazar Brum, President of Uruguay, is scheduled to fight a duel today with Dr. Lewis Alberto Herrera, the defeated Nationalist in the recent election.

The quarrel was the outgrowth of political discussion.

Wanted—A Voice Suppressor. A million-watt vacuum tube that will throw the voice across the Atlantic is a marvel of science, no doubt, but its value to the human race is open to question. Most of us hear more talking than we want to hear, as it is.

Negro Soldiers. There were 15,000 negroes in the Revolutionary armies fighting for independence of the American colonies. Negroes took part in defeating Britain in the battle of New Orleans.

Advertising Pays. A woman of uncertain age required the services of a page-boy, and inserted in the local paper an advertisement headed: "Youth wanted." One of her friends, with little humor and less taste, sent her a bottle of a celebrated wrinkle-remover, a pot of fairy bloom, a set of false teeth, and a flaxen wig! London Tit-Bits.

Aluminum. A new alloy given to a newly discovered metal alloy prepared by a French chemist. It contains 90 per cent of aluminum. It has the advantages of strength, lightness and freedom from corrosion. It is being used for military helmets, and is said to be used for airplane and turbine construction. Properly tempered it has a tensile strength of 70,000 pounds to the square inch.

Would Seem So. Two eyes two ears and one tongue prove that we are made to hear and see more than we expect.

FLUE FIRE THIS MORNING

A burning flue at the home of Mrs. Henrietta V. Stewart at Park place near the Lauderbach-Zorby wholesale house yanked the firemen away from their cakes and sausage a few minutes before 7 o'clock this morning, when the fire alarm was sounded. The boys were there with their usual promptness but there was no need for their services.

Still Stronger.

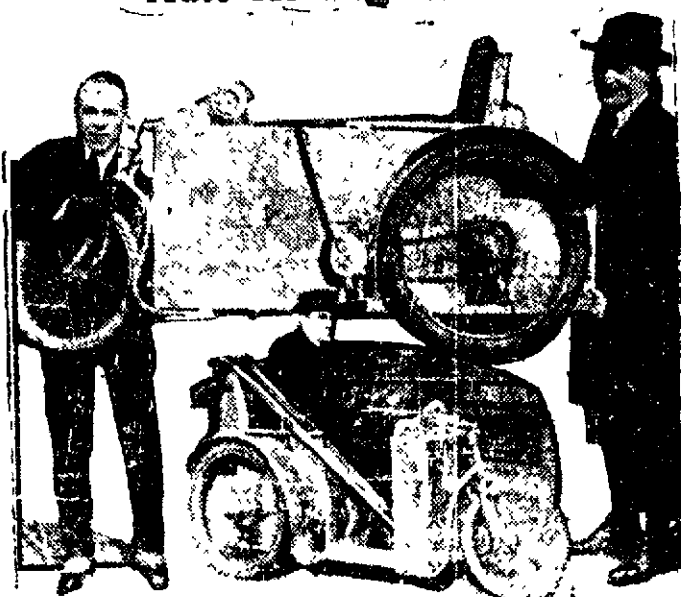

It is stated that kitchen dishes and utensils made of glass reinforced by wire are stronger than metal dishes and utensils. Very probable; but so are kitchen mops stronger than metal dishes and utensils.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Pleasantly Surprised.

After a long car ride Betty arrived at the home of a friend, with whom she had lunch. She ate heartily, for she was hungry. After lunch her hostess asked if she had had enough to eat, to which she replied: "Oh yes, I had more than I expected."

Tractors Reclaim Swamps. Experiments in Italy have demonstrated that, with the use of tractors, it will be possible to reclaim swamp lands.

Auto for Legless Men

A remarkable automobile for the use of legless men has been invented by Arthur M. Van Rensselaer, wealthy member of one of New York's oldest families who became a cripple after an attack of infantile paralysis, contracted while serving with the 1st Regiment on the Mexican border. The machine is motor-propelled, 32 inches wide, 70 inches long and weighs but 60 pounds. It is shown seated to his car.

ANOTHER BUCK AT GOSHEN

Those long time "humane hunters" at Goshen, now that they have finally got a little deer blood on their hands thanks largely to the second generation of hunters connected therewith, are veritably going wild, no less than the blood-thirsty representatives of the camp being engaged daily in rushing up and down and over the mountains in that region in search of the life blood of the wily buck deer infesting that section.

Buck No. 5 was secured yesterday, a handsome six pointer falling to the life of Arnold Hudson.

Hammering. Tautening a spring to the side of a well set, a Massachusetts inventor has invented a tool that will hold a nail in a place difficult to reach until the nail has been driven.

True Optimism. "True optimism never closes its eyes to the true and grim realities of hope and happiness, but goes out armed and armored to meet them."

Citizens Act Up. The world is blessed most by men who do things, and not by those who merely talk about them.

BROOKVILLE WOULD REVIVE OLD MOUNTAIN LEAGUE

From Brookville comes a noise like baseball. The county seat fans have ever been up and doing when it comes to the diamond sport and now the Stove Leaguers there have concocted a plan for 1923 that sounds most reasonable. They want to revive the old Mountain League, composed of towns on or near the Lakes to Sea Highway. The league, according to Brookville plan would consist of such towns as Brookville, DuBois, Reynoldsville, Clarion, New Bethlehem, Kane, Johnsonburg, Ridgeway, St. Marys, Clearfield and Punxsutawney.

The plan further calls for a partial home talent team, each club being limited to three "class" players. The men behind the idea believe that this plan would develop some real baseball talent among the youngsters of each of the towns. Two games a week in each town in the circuit is a further suggestion emanating from the county seat.

It is proposed to hold a meeting in the very near future to get the big idea working. Punxsy fans ought to be intensely interested.—Punxsy Spirit.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

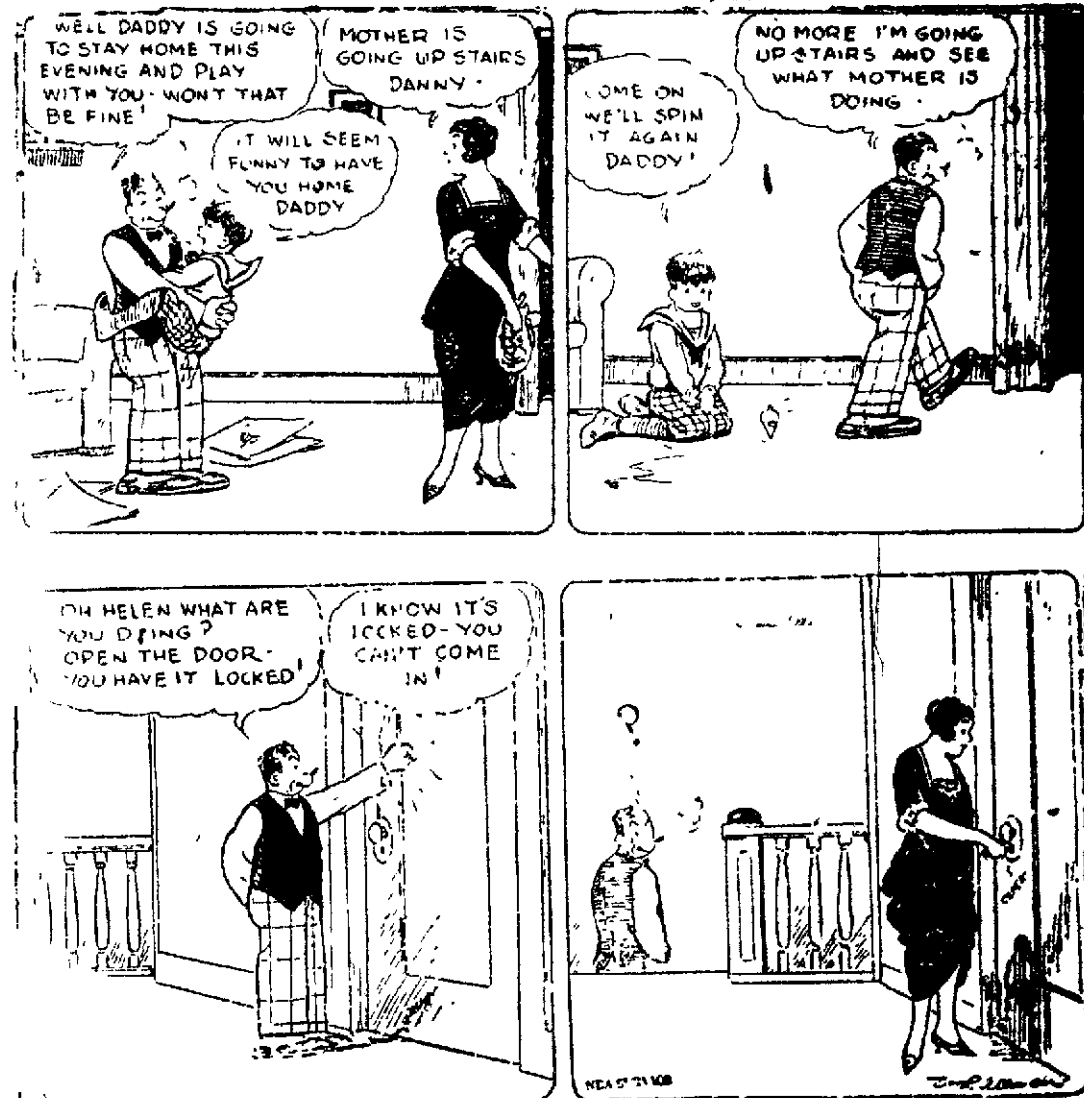

Ah! Backache Gone Rub Lumbago Away

Rub Pain from back with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil."

Ah! Pain is gone! Quickly?—Yes. Almost instant relief from soreness, stiffness, lameness and pain follows a gentle rubbing with "St. Jacobs Oil." Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and like magic, relief comes. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica remedy which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those torturous "stitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.

SECRETARY DAVIS MAKES INTERESTING REPORT ON DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND RECOMMENDS MUCH NEEDED LEGISLATION

Would Broaden Powers of Board of Conciliation
to Avoid Strikes, Add to Employment Service,
Give Aliens Exam before Embarking for U. S.

URGES FEDERAL JUVENILE COURTS

A series of recommendations comprising a labor program accompanied the annual report of Secretary of Labor Davis, made public today. The report after reviewing the labor history of the year, and pointing out the industrial lessons of the coal and rail road strikes makes the following recommendations:

The extension and expansion of the Conciliation Service of the Department of Labor to provide it with facilities which will permit it to deal with nation-wide industrial disturbances.

The strengthening of the United States Employment Service to enable it to meet the problem of unemployment.

Provision for the examination abroad of all aliens seeking admission to the United States with rigid physical, mental, moral and blood tests.

The enrollment by the federal authorities of all aliens within the borders of the United States and provision for the education in Americanism of such as are eligible for naturalization.

A federal constitutional amendment to prohibit the employment of children.

A federal juvenile court system. Discussing the industrial conflicts of the year and means for preventing similar clashes in the future the Secretary's report said:

"We must find a way to avert these futile, fatal appeals to force in industry, with their vast losses to the worker, the employer, and to the public, which is today so vitally dependent upon industry in its daily life. We must and will find a way to settle these disputes by the force of reason and justice before the appeal to force is made. Instead of conferences after months of industrial battle, I would have council before the strike is called. There is a close community of interest between the employer and the worker in every industry. Unless obscured by passion and prejudice in the heat of dispute, that community of interest will operate to adjust any differences that may arise between the two, to their common benefit. This community of interest, to my mind, is the secret of ending these industrial conflicts. There seems to be an unalterable opposition on the part of both employer and worker to the bringing into any dispute of a third party vested with all coercive powers sufficient to force a settlement. Our people have no indorsed any general policy of compulsion in dealing with these disputes. The principles of enforced arbitration, in any guise, is generally rejected by both parties to these controversies. It has been the experience of the Department of Labor that disinterested, intelligent, practical conciliation is capable of ending many of these disputes. In less than 10 years that the department has been in existence the Conciliation Service, hampered by limitations in personnel and equipment, has accomplished much in these disputes. It has handled thousands of them, involving millions of workers. It has had no arbitrary power, no coercive authority. Its commissioners have been peace-makers in industry, seeking to ascertain and appreciate the differing points of view of the two parties to a controversy and by earnest and painstaking appeals to the innate fairness and common interests of both sides to bring them to a common ground where an agreement can be reached. Of all the cases handled by this service more than 90 per cent of the disputes have been adjusted through their efforts or with their cooperation. Furthermore, where 70 per cent of these disputes in which the service acted when it was organized reached the stage of a strike or

Protection Of Christian Minorities Demanded By Curzon For Allies

Lausanne, Dec. 13.—Marquis Curzon, on behalf of the Allies today notified the Turks that the Near Eastern Conference here will be abandoned unless the Kemalists retract from their opposition to the Allied demand for the protection of Christian minorities in Turkish territories.

Marquis Curzon said the Turk would be wholly to blame if the conference broke up on the minority question.

The Turks must also decide quickly, the English Foreign Secretary said, whether they would join the League of Nations in the Near Eastern question or refuse. Curzon stated that he did so with the full agreement of the other invited powers, France and Italy.

A ambassador Childs had previously declared on behalf of America that the Christians in the Near East must be protected, as one of the "vital interests of the United States."

New York City, N. Y., Dec. 13.—George Clemenceau asked for a last message he said, "Not now, I shall give you my last word when I am dead. My ghost will come back."

THREE LIVES LOST IN BUFFALO FIRES DURING THE NIGHT

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 13.—Three persons were burned to death in fires which drove many victims into the cold here last night. The Cold Spring barn near Buffalo caught from defective wiring and one man was burned to death. Two unidentified persons were burned to death in two fires which consumed seven residences.

COLD WAVE DOES NOT HIT THE EAST VERY SEVERELY

Washington, D. C. Dec. 13.—The coldest weather of the winter is drifting to the eastern and central states. Fuel supplies were found to be adequate in most localities although New York found that it had to make use of odd sized. Temperatures reached zero in only isolated spots and most reported were in the region of ten above.

Three Children Die In Tenement House Fire In New York City

New York N. Y. Dec 13.—Three children are dead today as a result of a tenement house fire. The victims are Joseph aged 17, Rose aged 8 and Anna, aged 7 months, all children of Joseph McGowan. Their mother left them on a bed when she went to a grocery near there Joseph tried to carry the baby out but they all fell into the flames.

COURT NOTES

Howard Dixon of Bald Hill, was tried before Judge Bell this morning on a charge of rape preformed by Laura Kree an 18 year old girl from Sanborn, who was employed at the Dixon home. Dixon was prosecuted by Mitchell Chase Esq., while Wallace Smith, Esq., defended him.

GOVERNORS HAVE VARIED TOPICS TO ENLIVEN MEETING

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Dec. 13.—Governors from many states were gathered here today for conference on the vital domestic issues that the legislatures of many commonwealths are compelled to meet.

Prohibition enforcement, movie censorship, activities of the Ku Klux Klan, business and agricultural conditions were scheduled for earnest discussion in a three day meeting that will open tomorrow.

President Harding brought the prohibition enforcement condition to the Governors' attention in his annual message to Congress and in a general message he announced he would call the Governors in conference in an effort to co-ordinate state and federal enforcement measures. Some of the State Executives who will attend the conference here have decided ideas on the subject and it is likely suggestions evolved here will be presented at Mr. Harding's conference which it to meet some time in January.

Women's Club Holds A Very Interesting Pre-Xmas Meeting

The December meeting of the Clearfield Womens Club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Boulton, Tuesday evening, December 12.

The President Mrs. Chas. T. Kurtz presided. The business meeting, including the program was very interesting. Mrs. E. E. Orcutt, chairman of the Civic Committee, reported progress made in the effort to have the streets of Clearfield properly marked. The club hopes by the Spring "clean up week" to have the signs ready to place.

The club unanimously voted to buy a Health bond.

An appeal is to be made for used toys to be distributed at Christmas time to the tots whose Christmas otherwise would prove a mighty disappointment. Plans for the annual banquet were also discussed.

At the end of the business program there was a roll call of members, the response being Christmas sentiments. Following this a very

HUNTERS TRAPPED ON HIGH TRESTLE; ONE IS KILLED

Dr. Bois, Pa., Dec. 13.—Three men, presumably returning from a hunting trip, were trapped on the high trestle just east of Summerville yesterday afternoon about 2 45 o'clock, one of them being instantly killed, another badly injured, while a third escaped a horrible death by dropping through the trestling to a stone abutment.

The dead Louis Valentine, Summerville, instantly killed; body hurled several yards by engine.

The injured Steve Raclozy, Washaw, severely injured when he leaped into the creek to avoid being hit by the engine. Struck on rocks. Now in Brookville hospital, condition serious.

A third man, Reynaldo Juliz, dropped through the bridge to a stone abutment, where he escaped death. His escape is considered remarkable, as he had but a small space on which to alight. Had he missed the abutment he would have landed in the creek with Raclozy.

It is believed that the three men had been out hunting as they were accompanied by two dogs. They were traveling towards the west and a strong wind was blowing from that direction. It is believed that this wind prevented them from hearing the warnings sounded by the engineer and when the driver saw them he had no chance to bring his train to a stop.

The train was going at a good speed when it struck the bridge and the body of Valentine was thrown a considerable distance. Raclozy managed to clear the bridge just in time to avoid being struck, while Juliz dropped through to the abutment as the engine reached him.

The passenger train is the one leaving DuBois at 12 50. The crew stopped and gathered up the body of the dead man, rescued the injured man from the creek, where he was in danger of suffocation and Juliz himself was able to get back to the trestle. All three were taken to Summerville from which place the injured man was sent to the Brookville hospital.

Mrs. Mayre Hartsfeld returned from a visit at her sisters in Pittsburgh.

HOLDS UP WOMAN IN BEDROOM AFTER FORCING ENTRANCE

Harry Dean, a peg-legged colored man who came to Clearfield about two months ago from Elmira, N. Y., and was employed at the tannery, was placed in jail yesterday after being arrested by Constable T. B. Reilly of the Second Ward on a warrant issued by Judge Joseph F. John following information made by Rudolph Tasso, of the Fourth Ward, which charged breaking and entering and forcing Mrs. Tasso to give him $10.

The information charges that on Monday night last between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock Dean broke into the Tasso home and making his way upstairs to the bed room in which Mrs. Tasso was sleeping, demanded $10. The frightened woman obeyed the request of Dean and handed him a ten dollar bill. Dean then blew out the light, locked the door and then left the room and the house. When he came home and learned of the occurrence Tasso went to the office of Squire John and made the information against Dean, which resulted in his arrest.

Constable Reilly was given the warrant and going down to the shanty in which Dean lived found him asleep in his bed and placed him under arrest.

Dean told the officer he was drunk when he forced his way into the Tasso home. He claimed that he had given Tasso $7.00 on Monday evening to get him a pint of molasses but that Tasso failed to show up with either molasses or money and that he searched the house in search of his money expecting to find Tasso, but when he entered the room and found Mrs. Tasso and demanded the money.

Dean was sent to jail in default of bail.

DIES AT HOSPITAL FROM SERIOUS BURNS

Mrs. Margaret Waldron, who with her husband, Frank Waldron, were seriously burned when their home at Houtzdale was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning, Dec. 13th, died at the Cottage State hospital at Phillipsburg on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lancy Smith celebrated their birthdays yesterday. Both were born on the same date.

'13' HAS NO TERRORS FOR JUNIOR HIGH'S HIGH FINANCIERS

This morning was the 13th banking day for the school year by Junior High School. It was a gentle contest between the boys and the girls who held the record for a time, but it finally shifted to the Mitchell group of boys who took the first place with $65.99, and this alone topped the total of last year, $61.81.

Thirteen seems to have been today a charm number for this is the 13th day. The total amount for the day was $135.75, a gain of $74.44 over the place of 13 and its multiple in all the figures. The total for 13 banking days comes to $1,342.11, which shows a total advance of $402.80. Last year the girls kept the record throughout the year but this year the boys have given far in excess of the girls, and one group of boys has resolved to eat lemon for breakfast for 13 days before they will allow the girls or any group of boys to surpass their giving. That vow will meet its "bang" sometime, for there is a bunch that has it in for the Mitchell magnificence.

The occasion was enlivened this morning by the presence of the Rev. T. S. Wilcox, D. D. of Williamsport Seminary, who left with them three great G's, which he gave out in "Grow, Grow, and Go." Then Rev. H. L. Jacobs, known to most of the boys and girls of Clearfield as "Mac Decker," was cheered when he read the report and commented on the various items of the school's banking record. Prof. C. D. Ross, who was in his characteristic smile, declared that he was carried off his feet—figuratively speaking. The first day of School in 1923 falls on banking day, and the school has set itself to make a record then. You should have heard the entire school cheer and some of them with a "bang."

31 POUND CAT IS TRAPPED AT STONE CAMP ON LICK RUN

The Panther Rocks or Stone Camp Hunting Club broke camp Sunday last, bringing to town two bucks and a wildcat which weighed 31½ pounds and measured 56 inches from tip to tip.

The huge cat was caught in a steel trap set in the draft below the camp at the head of Lick Run. Lusher Krebs and Jim Cochran found the cat in the trap and they had some battle before they succeeded in killing it. The trappers left their rifles in the camp when they went to visit the trap, nearly a mile away, and when they found the old fellow fast by a foreleg they decided to club him to death rather than journey back to camp for a gun with which to shoot it.

The cat naturally objected to being killed and stood his belabored off for fully fifteen minutes before a well-directed blow from Krebs' club put him temporarily down for the count.

With the cat off his feet the rest was easy and he soon lacked that which makes the wild cat wild.

FORMER MADERA MAN DIES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13.—Frank admission that the whole power of the American Federation of Labor is behind the attempt to impeach Attorney General Daugherty, was made by Samuel Compers. He said he was interested in three phases of the charges but was not permitted to say what they were.

EDWARDS IS FOUND GUILTY BY JURY IN BOOTLEGGING CASE

Trial of Jos. Ianaro and His Wife On Same Charge Will Go to Jury This Evening.

EVIDENCE STRONG

The jury in the case of Constable A. C. "Tunk" Edwards the First Ward of Clearfield, was given the case at 5:30 p. m. evening at the conclusion of Judge Bell's charge and returned a verdict of guilty within twenty-five minutes.

The concluding chapters of the defense adduced at the trial are given here, last evening's story of name closing with the calling of Mitchell Graham to the stand in effort to disprove the state police, who secured the evidence against Edwards.

Mr. Arnold then cross-examined Graham as to the exact date when he was unable to determine the exact date, objection was made. His further testimony and cross-examination at this point the defense with the witness and called his daughter Minnie Graham to the stand.

An offer at this bar was asked and when made was objected to. District Attorney but he was overruled by the Court. An effort then made by Attorney Chase to the witness determine the exact date of the two state police officers in Phillipsburg, Mr. Graham having testified to Phillipsburg Nov. 16th. He testified to having seen Mr. Graham at her home between 8:30 and 9:30 p. m. Nov. 16th. They were there an hour. When asked if they were drinking objection was made to the question and sustained by the Court. When asked if the men were drunk or sober when they came there she said she could not say, she was not thought of it. There was present at the time her father, mother, sister, the two police officers, Miss Fryer and Miss Lantich.

Mitchell Graham was then recalled and said Mr. Graham and Trout came to his house Nov. 14 between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock. He said the men were either drunk or crazy when they arrived.

Harvey Sherrin was then called and sworn, and on offer it was made, which was objected to by the District Attorney and peremptorily sustained by the Court.

Alma Lantich was called and asked concerning her visit to the Graham home with Mr. Graham and Trout. She asked whether or not Mr. Graham had ordered them from the house. Objection was made and sustained by the Court, who declared that the defense disregard the question. An offer at this bar was made and objection made and sustained.

Roxie Fryer was called but objection was made by the District Attorney to her testifying and she was withdrawn.

The defense then asked for five minutes recess for consultation and it was granted.

At the end of the recess period the defense announced they had closed their case and the Court then declared the evidence closed and directed that the attorneys go to the jury with their arguments.

The case of Con. vs. Joseph Ianaro and Mrs. Joseph Ianaro, charged with information made by County Detective Monte Snyder with violation of the Woner Act, was placed on trial in criminal court at 11 o'clock this morning. This is the second case wherein the evidence was secured by the two state policemen called into the county by District Attorney Arnold last October to investigate the many complaints received regarding the illicit liquor traffic in Clearfield. District Attorney Arnold is conducting the prosecution while A. Woodward and A. R. Chase, Esq., represent the defendants.

The District Attorney in opening his case to the jury, said he expected to be able to prove illicit sales by both Mr. and Mrs. Ianaro on several occasions.

The first witness called was the

lockout, today less than 80 per cent of them become actual suspensions of work before they are adjusted. "It seems to me that before enacting any radical legislation or changing the administrative scheme for dealing with these strikes, we might well consider the perfecting and extension of the machinery which has proved so effective in the past. I have no doubt that by improving and increasing the facilities of the Conciliation service we can materially increase its effectiveness in dealing with the 10 per cent of industrial disputes in which it apparently fails. In many of these cases of apparent failure, however, the efforts of a conciliation commissioner become the ultimate basis of settlement.

As to unemployment the report said:

"Here we have two problems to meet—to prevent a recurrence of the employment depression which threw between five and six million men into idleness and to reduce the number of our workmen who are daily without means of livelihood.

"We have a powerful agency in meeting both of these problems in the United States. Employment Service, which, fully organized and equipped, would have its finger at all times upon the pulse of the labor supply and demand of the country. The past year this service, with its co-operating agencies, proved its effectiveness. It listed between 2-500,000 workers seeking employment, and placed nearly 1,500,000 of them in jobs without expense to the worker or employer. Its usefulness and the need for its development are plain.

"The causes of idleness among our workmen call for instant remedy. Industrial strife and unemployment offer opportunities to the enemy of government too favorable for us to overlook them. Wherever worker and employer clash and wherever men are in enforced idleness, there is the opportunity for the unscrupulous employer with his hired guard, his mercenary plug-ugly. There, too, the ultra-radical finds conditions ripe for his efforts. Both threaten the subversion of all government, as they preach contempt for law and order, and by stirring the passions and hate of the masses, they find the road to violence and bloodshed. These things are a menace to our whole national existence. They threaten the fundamentals of our Government. No duty is more pressing upon us today than that of safeguarding ourselves from these dangers."

The report explained the Secretary's immigration and naturalization proposals briefly as follows:

"It seems clear to me that the place to determine whether an alien is fit for America—whether he is mentally, physically, morally and by blood capable of exercising the rights and assuming the duties of citizenship in America—is not after he has made a long and expensive voyage across the ocean, but before he begins it. By examining aliens ahead of time we determine whether they are legally admissible to the United States we would avoid that heart-rending appeal to the emotions which now every day confronts the immigration officials at ports of entry. We could avoid the separation of families, which excites the profoundest compassion. We could know that we are deciding each case according to the real facts.

"We owe to the America of today and to the America of tomorrow the duty of educating in Americanism the 7,000,000 naturalizable aliens who are today in America outside the pale of citizenship. They must be made acquainted with America and America must learn to know them. They must be made worthy of the high privilege of citizenship in the United States. To do this we must know who they are and what they are, and we must teach them the principles upon which our Republic is founded, the principles which every American must hold to if the Nation is to endure. For this purpose I propose to enroll the stranger within our gates, to learn to know him, to aid him to become a real American if he is worthy, and to send him whence he came if he prove unworthy."

In addition to the enrollment of all aliens, the Secretary recommended for the consideration of Congress the determination of a definite policy with regard to the permanent residence in America of aliens of those races who under the law are barred from naturalization.

Land Built by Rivers. The geologists say that the Gulf of Mexico once extended northward to the mouth of the Ohio, and that all the land between that point and New Orleans has been built up by the earth washings brought down the river. Even now, the stream carries on the average something like 400,000,000 tons every year. From the Missouri alone comes 120 tons every second, or more than 10,000,000 cubic yards every day.

Wasted Time.

We don't miss the little here and the little there. Yet in a year the amount of time wasted is enormous. Learning that he was always called to dinner several minutes before the dinner was really ready to eat a certain man started and wrote a book in the spare minutes between the call and the actual dinner time. It only shows how we waste time. If you want to be among earth's benefactors you will begin now to conserve your time and use it to profit.—Exchange.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Attendance at any one session of Clearfield county criminal court will satisfy the most fastidious that there is poverty, distress and depravity enough right here in this county to furnish opportunity for effort on the part of every upright organization in the county. The Life case was a shining example for missionary work among Clearfield county "heathens."

You lovers of meat who delight in tickling the palate with an extra cut of roast beef or a large, juicy steak, but hesitate because of the prevalent belief that meat-eating is injurious to the health, perish your fears and go to it, says Charles J. Brand, consulting specialist in marketing of the Department of Agriculture.

"Many persons," Brand declares, "still hold to the belief, which was largely the outgrowth of unfair and misguided propaganda, that meat is not healthful. Medical science has proved over and over that a large number of ill once charged against meat-eating are due to infection of teeth, tonsils and other organs."

Meat is wholesome, Brand asserts, and for health and vigor we should eat well-balanced meals, including a variety of kinds and cuts of meat.

The recent decision of the United States Supreme Court establishes once for all that each state has concurrent power with the federal government in the enforcement of the prohibition law and that a violation of same may be punished through both federal and state action. The Supreme Court declared the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted for the purpose of establishing prohibition as a national policy, reaching every section of the country and affecting local, interstate and foreign commerce. The court added:

"We have here two sovereignties deriving power from different sources capable of dealing with the same subject matter within the same territory. Each may, without interference with the other, enact laws to secure prohibition, with the limitation that no legislation can give validity to acts prohibited by the amendment. Each government in determining what shall be an offense against its peace and dignity is exercising its own sovereignty—not that of the other."

Murder is increasing in the United States, the birth rate is falling and the natural death rate is also increasing. In 1921, 1,910 murders were committed in 28 American cities. The average is now 9.3 per 100,000. But those that collect the somewhat appalling figures are mistaken in their conclusion that prohibition is a failure because murders have not decreased.

In speaking of this proposition a leading New York newspaper says:—Murders due to drunkenness have diminished, undoubtedly, for there is less drunkenness. But there is a new crop of murders, due to the bootlegging industry, which involves hundreds of millions a year, and causes many murders among the bootleggers themselves. The war also has helped. When you teach and urge thousands of young men to kill strangers, a few of them inevitably will kill when they come back home.

In Pennsylvania in 1906, according to figures furnished by the state department of health, the death rate from tuberculosis was 150.9 per 100,000 persons. In 1921, according to the same authority, the death rate from this dread disease had fallen to 91.6 per 100,000.

Value of Shadows.

Reflections and shadows form an important aid to decoration. The shadow of a spray of roses or a group of tall grasses against a light wall or table is very beautiful. So is the reflection of a well-planned set of furniture or pottery in a mirror. A gray silhouette of a vine is sometimes painted on the window shade of a sun room to give the effect of a shadow.

"Tunk" Edwards, a young man of fine appearance who has a legion of friends, who uses no profanity, is not vicious, and in every sense of the word "likeable," is today awaiting the Court's sentence after hearing the word "guilty" from a jury of twelve men who found he has been bootlegging.

He has violated the Woner Law and the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution, must, and will be punished. His punishment will no doubt be more severe because he held the office of constable, in which position he had taken an oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States.

While the law will demand full price, and there is no justification or excuse to be offered in extenuation for his misdoing, The Progress cannot help but believe that Tunk was guided largely by the knowledge, which he must have had, that he could get away with what others were doing, officers at that.

"Tunk" Edwards is not the only constable or peace officer in this county who has been engaged in this nefarious business. Many more of them have knowledge of it and do nothing about it.

For an officer of the law to permit law breaking should be punishable just the same as though he were doing the crime. If there is no law to hold them responsible for the ease with which liquor is obtainable, the citizens have recourse to the elections which will be held in the coming year.

LOVE!

We expect all the young folk to read this, because whenever the word love sticks out of the printed page they get all nervous and excited and they want to see what it's all about.

There was a man by the name of Rodger Dolan, and he loved a maid of 18. That was 40 years ago. He knew all the anguish of love unrequited. For she wanted to treat him "like a brother." So Rodger went away.

The other day he returned. He looked upon the face of the woman he had loved. She had matured in beauty, and retained the traces of her girlish charm.

But this is no fairy tale. It is real life. Rodger Dolan discovered that he no longer loved her. "She fitted my ideal as a suit of badly tailored clothes fits my body," Dolan said.

How much better it was that this couple never married. Rodger Dolan might have come to the same realization after the excited period of first love was gone, and then the divorce court would have been just around the corner.

Better think of the girl or the boy as a mature man or woman, young folk, before you take the fatal step. Will that picture fit your ideal as well as the present one, or will it seem like a suit of badly tailored clothes?

LEWIS SUMMONED TO WASHINGTON FOR A CONFERENCE THERE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13.—John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, was called before the Federal Coal Commission for a conference here tomorrow. Prominent operators from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana will also be present and the machinery will be set in motion for coming to an agreement as to scale of wages in the coal fields before present agreements expire.

"RED" STAUFFER MISSES FIRE

"Red" Stauffer, one of the bloodless local hunters who annually scare the deer on the mountains adjacent to Crystal Springs hunting camp continues to bat one thousand in the "never hit 'em" league. "Red" has been his annual custom for the past three or four years missed a big buck yesterday afternoon which had the temerity to approach within twenty feet of the mighty (poor) hunter. "Red" fired seven shots at the deer as it ambled slowly away and when taken to task for missing by his fellow hunters, "Red" said he was handicapped by the bracken interfering with his sight—the bracken is rather tall in that section.

FOUND GUILTY

Trout, of the state police, who some of the witnesses allege can drink moonshine like a fish, but who sure made suckers out of a lot of local "poor fish" who think themselves in the "wise guy" class. He said in company with Bob Horey he went to Ianaro's place on the evening of Nov. 6th for the purpose of purchasing some liquor. Horey went up the front stairs and down the back stairs into the kitchen and came out with a bottle of liquor. He saw Joe Ianaro after Horey came out of the store. He talked with Ianaro and Horey, who vouched for Trout to get liquor, but that Joe said he had no more than the bottle he had sold to Horey, which bottle Trout produced in evidence. The bottle was not quite full and Trout said Horey had taken a couple of drinks out of it. Trout said the next day—election day—in company with Private Murtha he returned to the Ianaro store, found Joe on the street and asked him for liquor. He told him to go into the house that Mary would take care of them. They entered the house by the front door and when they got down the back stairs into the kitchen Ianaro himself came in. He told his wife it was alright and Mrs. Ianaro then went into a pantry in the rear and got a bottle for them; taking a glass jug out of the pantry and filling the bottle from that. He had supplied the bottles—3 pints—the night before on his trip there with Horey. Joe had left before the bottles were filled. He got both pints, paying $4 for them.

Trout said he returned to the Ianaro home again on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock and purchased another quart from Mrs. Ianaro. She again got the liquor from a glass jug in the pantry. The jug did not hold quite a quart and she sent her little girl out to get some more. The little girl returned in a few minutes with a stone jug of liquor out of which the bottles were filled. These two pints were also presented in evidence. He also returned to Ianaro's on Nov. 14th at 7:45 p. m. Joe was in front of the house when he came. He spoke to Joe and then walked into the kitchen where Mrs. Ianaro gave him a pint which she filled out of a glass jug. Murtha paid over the money for it.

Trout was vigorously cross examined by Attorney Chase but stuck pretty closely to his story.

W. P. Murtha, the other state cop was then called and corroborated Trout as to the bottles that were turned over to him by Trout. He did not see Mrs. Ianaro fill the bottles and when they returned Nov. 14 Joe with sitting in front of the store and they spoke to him but did not stop. He saw none of the bottles being filled. On Nov. 9th Mrs. Ianaro said she would have Susie go to get some more liquor. She left the kitchen going upstairs and returning with the jug. Susie then came out of the pantry with the two bottles. He bought a pint for Mrs. Ianaro and turned it over to Trout, identifying the bottle in evidence.

On cross examination by Mr. Woodward Murtha said he had been a member of the state police for two years and two months. Asked if his efficiency and record wasn't governed by the convictions obtained, Murtha said they got not mark or credit for convictions. Said the Ianaro house was of frame construction and saw Joe Ianaro twice and was positive of his identity. Saw Mary Ianaro three times and she told him what her name was.

At this period a recess of a few minutes was taken while Pharmacist Ashcroft was arranging to make a test of the liquor in evidence in order that its alcoholic content might be determined.

The liquor law violations being prosecuted in this week's criminal court are all brought under the Woner Act, a Pennsylvania statute, which law was this commonwealth's effort to assist in enforcing national prohibition. The Woner Act makes it a misdemeanor to manufacture, sell, transport or possess liquor for beverage purposes containing more than one-half of one per cent. of alcohol. For these different violations or any one of them the Court may, at his discretion, impose a maximum sentence of $5,000 fine and three years in jail, while the minimum fine allowed is $100.

Perfecting Fireproof Paper.

Documents written on paper made from asbestos fiber, with inks prepared from the nitrates of iron and cobalt, have withstood a red heat for two hours without being damaged in any way. No damage resulted until the intensity of the heat was increased considerably and the document was exposed in it for ten hours. It is expected that further experimentation and study will result in the perfection of a paper and ink practically indestructible by fire.

Not So Sure.

The secretary of a social club was presented a cut-glass loving cup. His servant surprised the object the next morning. "Look at this thing," he said, "they know if I break one of these handles they'll have two left, and if I break two they'll have one left. They'll always have one. They will; they'll; I'm not so sure about that."

Ballads and Laws.

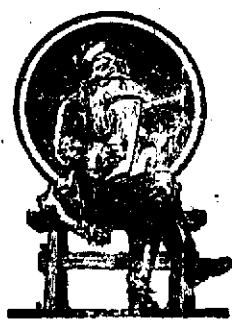

Andrew Fletcher of Saltoun (1653-1716), the celebrated Scottish patriot and statesman, in a letter written to the marquis of Montrose, the earl of Rothes and others, said: "I knew a very wise man that believed that if a man were permitted to make all the ballads he need not care who should make the laws of a nation."

Uncovering the Illusion.

Suppose you should be startled in the dark night by something which looked like a specter? Would not he who should bring a lantern and show you that it was but a white cloth hanging to a bush give you far greater encouragement than he who merely exhorted you to keep up your heart, look the other way, whistle, and pass on?—Whitely.

Truth Immortal.

But there is no veil like light—no dampening armor against truth like a truth—George MacDonald.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Monday evening was a gala one for the C. H. S. football team and some of their supporters. The occasion was a banquet given in appreciation of the good work and showing the team made during the football season which closed on Thanksgiving Day, for the year 1922, by a number of business men of the town. Those who promoted the entertainment and carried it through to a successful issue were L. V. Vaughn, Joseph Fullerton, C. E. Doverspike and Lynn Dougherty. The banquet was held at the Park hotel, and consisted of a nine-course menu, carrying all the substantial and delicate provender for which this hostelry has become noted. Some forty persons were present and partook of the cigars and refreshments. One of the most surprising and pleasant features of the gathering was a large canopy, oval in pyramid shape, erected on one of the tables, made from gold and black cloth. Hidden within its folds was Little Eloise Rutter, a lass who has made a reputation as a songstress. At the proper moment she began to sing and at the parting of the cloth she appeared dressed in imitation of a football. Speeches were made by Messrs. Vaughn, Dougherty and Fullerton. Each member of the football team was called upon and each responded in a few well chosen words suitable to the occasion. It was a most enjoyable affair all the way along, and the boys will not soon forget the kindness and thoughtfulness of the men who entertained them in such a lavish manner in their appreciation and effort made to maintain a clean playing, winning team in Curwensville.

Mrs. C. E. Doverspike went to Altoona yesterday for a short visit with friends.

William Wolf is back from the Medix Run lumber woods and will remain with home folks until after Christmas.

The Progress writer was informed

yesterday that John Norris had purchased the corner store building at the river.

Harry Vaughn went to Altoona yesterday for the purpose of attending the funeral of a relative.

Mrs. George Bedner, whose home is over on the South Side, was removed to the Clearfield hospital yesterday where she will undergo a surgical operation.

Miss Marjorie Murray spent the week-end with her parents on Ridge avenue. Miss Murray recently returned from Lock Haven where she spent Thanksgiving week and renewed old acquaintances made during her school days in that city last summer.

Geo. C. Fleming is confined to his home by illness. "Piney" is playing in hard luck, only recently recovering from a serious attack of the flu while on a hunting expedition in Jefferson county.

Mrs. Benjamin Clee, of Glen Richy, passed away on last Friday, December 8th. Deceased was born in Leeds, England, October 16, 1865, and came to America when yet in her teens. The Clee family have been residents of Glen Richy for a number of years. Early in life she gave her heart to her Saviour and up until the hour she breathed her last, strove to live an honorable Christian life. She is survived by her husband and several children. Funeral services were held in the Glen Richy Presbyterian church on Monday, Rev. B. H. Conley, of this place, conducting the services, assisted by Rev. M. Seymore. Interment in Bloomington cemetery.

Mrs. Rose Bloom, George street, is reported as being confined to her home by illness.

The body of Mrs. William Allison arrived in Curwensville yesterday afternoon and was immediately conveyed from the train to the cemetery, where Rev. Collins conducted a short burial service. A number of Curwensville friends and relatives from Clearfield attended the services at Oak Hill cemetery. Undertaker C. D. Doverspike had charge of the body from the train to the cemetery.

Must Guard Against Echo.

The possibilities of an echo have to be taken into account by the architects and builders of all public buildings, such as theaters, halls and churches, where persons are to speak and must be heard by others. Unless they are very careful the walls and ceilings may be arranged so that when anyone sings or speaks in the room there is such an echo that it interferes with the music or speaking.

Buried Alive in Tree.

As some workmen were felling timber in Scotland, they discovered in the center of one of the trees a cavity in which were the remains of a cat. The skeleton was entire, and some half of a sandy color yet remained on the skin. It is conjectured that the animal, having entered a hollow part of the tree, was unable to extricate itself, and the wood in process of years had grown around it.

Toyville Boyville Girlville

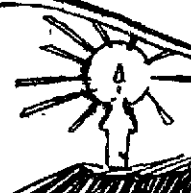

That's one and the same station with our wonderful array of toys and things that we have gathered for you down in our great toy section.

If you could see the things that will bring delight to the heart of little Mary, if you could see the things that will keep little Jack quiet and interested, of the games that are here in such a wonderful array, that they both can play—and you'll enjoy playing with them—you'd believe in a minute that this is the realest TOYVILLE in the city.

And if you could hear the shouts of delight as the kiddies discover some new thing after another, you'd know that this is the only place you would try to do any of your Christmas buying.

The boys stand and look longingly at the toys that move, the girls go into ecstasies of delight when they go into the great big room full of dolls, and the older kiddies stand and wonder at the games they could put in hours with during the long evenings after lessons are out of the way.

A trip down to the TOYVILLE will show you just what we mean—by all means take an hour any afternoon and enjoy the fun.

PRESIDENT BRUM OF URUGUAY WILL FIGHT DUEL TODAY

Montevideo, Dec. 13.—Doctor Balpazar Brum, President of Uruguay, is scheduled to fight a duel today with Dr. Lewis Alberto Herrera, the defeated Nationalist in the recent election.

The quarrel was the outgrowth of political discussion.

Wanted—A Voice Suppressor.

A million-watt vacuum tube that will throw the voice across the Atlantic is a marvel of science, no doubt, but its value to the human race is open to question. Most of us hear more talking than we want to hear, as it is.

Negro Soldiers.

There were 15,000 negroes in the Revolutionary armies fighting for independence of the American colonies. Negroes took part in defeating Britain in the battle of New Orleans.

Advertising Pays.

A woman of uncertain age required the services of a page-boy, and inserted in the local paper an advertisement headed: "Youth wanted." One of her friends, with little humor and less taste, sent her a bottle of a celebrated wrinkle-remover, a pot of fairy bloom, a set of false teeth, and a flaxen wig! London Tit-Bits.

FLUE FIRE THIS MORNING

A burning flue at the home of Mrs. Henrietta V. Stewart at Park place near the Landerbach-Zorby wholesale house yanked the firemen away from their cakes and sausage a few minutes before 7 o'clock this morning, when the fire alarm was sounded. The boys were there with their usual promptness but there was no need for their services.

Still Stronger.

It is stated that kitchen dishes and utensils made of glass reinforced by wire are stronger than metal dishes and utensils. Very probable; but so are kitchen mops stronger than metal dishes and utensils.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ANOTHER BUCK AT GOSHEN

Those long time "humane hunters" at Goshen, now that they have finally got a little deer blood on their hands thanks largely to the second generation of hunters connected therewith, are veritably going wild, no less than twelve blood-thirsty representatives of the camp being engaged daily in rushing up and down and over the mountains in that region in search of the life blood of the wily buck deer infesting that section.

A remarkable automobile for the use of legless men has been invented by Arthur M. From Brookville comes a noise like baseball. The county seat fans have ever been up and doing when it comes to the diamond sport and now the Stove Leaguers there have concocted a plan for 1923 that sounds most reasonable. They want to revive the old Mountain League, composed of towns on or near the Lakes to Sea Highway. The league, according to Brookville plan would consist of such towns as Brookville, DuBois, Reynoldsville, Clarion, New Bethlehem, Kane, Johnsonburg, Ridgeway, St. Marys, Clearfield and Punxsutawney.

The plan further calls for a partial home talent team, each club being limited to three "class" players. The men behind the idea believe that this plan would develop some real baseball talent among the youngsters of each of the towns. Two games a week in each town in the circuit is a further suggestion emanating from the county seat.

It is proposed to hold a meeting in the very near future to get the big idea working. Punxsy fans ought to be intensely interested.—Punxsy Spirit.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Ah! Backache Gone Rub Lumbago Away

Rub Pain from back with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil."

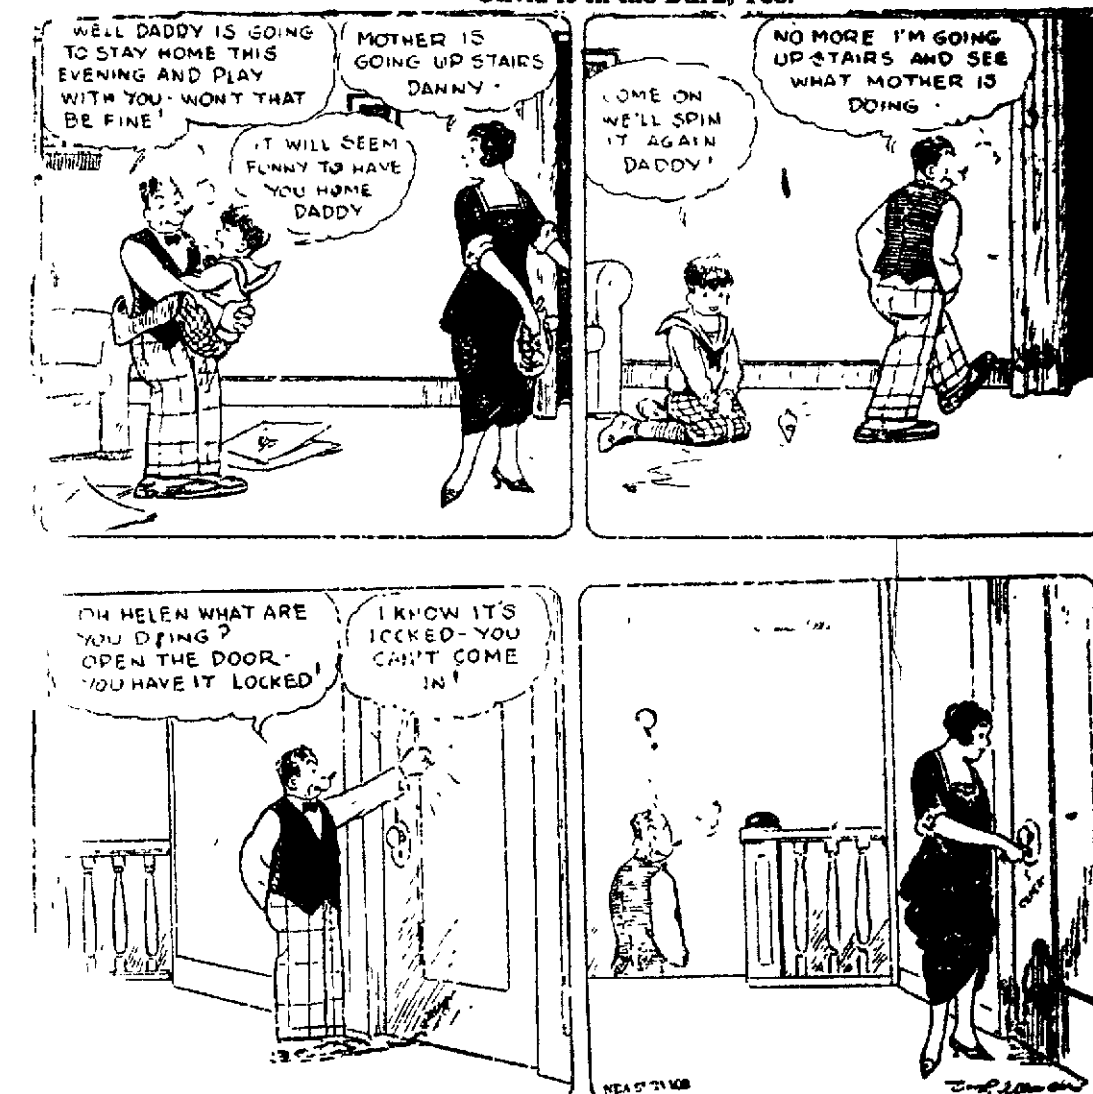

Ah! Pain is gone! Quickly?—Yes. Almost instant relief from soreness, stiffness, lameness and pain follows a gentle rubbing with "St. Jacobs Oil."

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and like magic, relief comes. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica remedy which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.

Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those tortuous "stitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.

OH! MY BACK!

A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills revive sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Here's Clearfield proof:

Mrs. Roy Shirey, 128 Clearfield St., says: "I had an attack of kidney complaint that caused me to have a severe pain in the small of my back. When I got up morning the pain was severe and I had headaches. My hands were swollen, too. After taking about four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills the pains in my back were all gone and I haven't been troubled with my kidneys since. I think Doan's are a wonderful kidney remedy and I gladly recommend them."

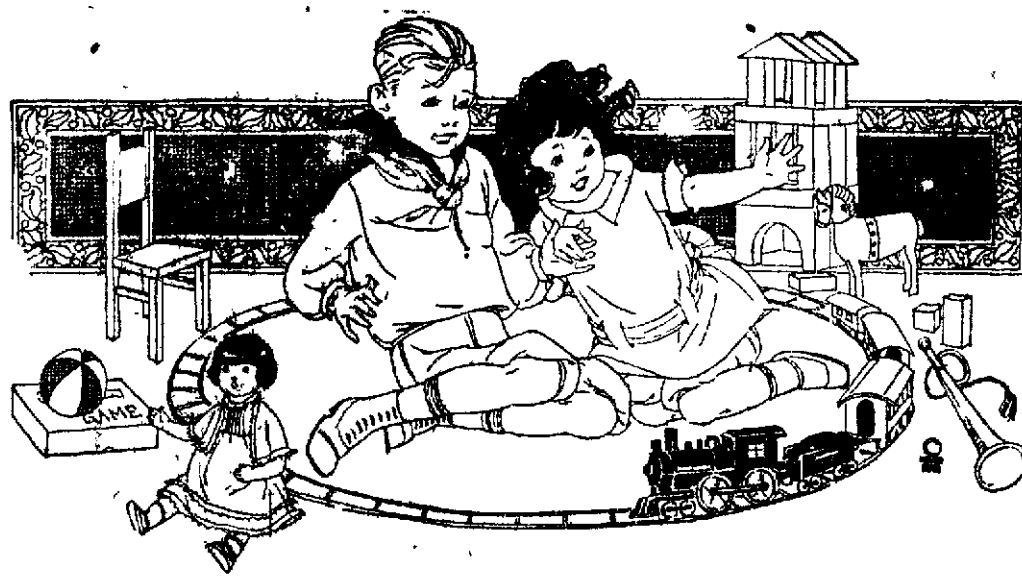

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Shirey had. Foster-McBarn Co., M'rs. Buffalo, N. Y.
